The New Art and Science of Teaching 2020 This title is a greatly expanded volume of the original Art and Science of Teaching, offering a competency-based educational framework for substantive change based on Dr. Robert Marzano's 50 years of education research. While the previous model focused on teacher outcomes, the new model focuses on student learning outcomes, with research-based instructional strategies teachers can use to help students grasp the information and skills transferred in instruction. Throughout the book, Marzano details the elements of three overarching categories of teaching, which define what must happen to optimize student learning: students must receive feedback, get meaningful content instruction, and have their basic psychological needs met. Gain research-based instructional strategies and teaching techniques that drive student success: Explore instructional strategies that correspond to each of the 43 elements of The New Art and Science of Teaching, which have been carefully selected to maximize student engagement and achievement. Use ten design questions and a general framework to help determine which classroom strategies you should use to optimize learning. Analyze the behavioral evidence that proves the strategies of an element are helping learners reach their peak academic success. Study the state of the field, the movement and what changes must be made in K-12 education to ensure high levels of learning for all. Download free reproducible scales specific to the elements of The New Art and Science of Teaching. Contents: Chapter 1: Providing and Communicating Clear Learning Goals Chapter 2: Conducting Assessment Chapter 3: Conducting Direct Instruction Chapter 4: Practicing and Deepening Lessons Chapter 5: Implementing Knowledge Application Lessons Chapter 6: Using Strategies That Appear in All Types of Instruction Chapter 7: Using Engagement Strategies Chapter 8: Implementing Rules and Procedures Chapter 9: Building Relationships Chapter 10: Communicating High Expectations Chapter 11: Making System Changes
