Greek and Roman Military Manuals May 31 2020 This volume explores the enigmatic primary source known as the ancient military manual. In particular, the volume explores the extent to which these diverse texts constitute a genre (sometimes unsatisfactorily classified as 'technical literature'), and the degree to which they reflect the practice of warfare. With contributions from a diverse group of scholars, the chapters examine military manuals from early Archaic Greece to the Byzantine period, covering a wide range of topics including readership, siege warfare, mercenaries, defeat, textual history, and religion. Coverage includes most of the major contemporary siege manual writers, including Xenophon, Frontinus, Vegetius, and Maurice. Close examination of these texts serves to reveals the complex ways in which ancient Greeks, Romans, and Byzantines sought to understand better, and impose order upon, the seemingly irrational phenomenon known as war. Providing insight into the multifaceted collection of texts that constituted military manuals, this volume is a key resource for students and scholars of warfare and military literature in the classical and Byzantine periods.

Artes Orandi Nov 24 2019 Apparatus a la fin du XIIe siecle, les "artes praedicandi" sont des traites qui presentent une methode et des techniques de predication: ils enseignent les differentes facons de composer un sermon et de le prononcer. Ce genre evolue au cours du Moyen Age en fonction du temps et du public auquel la predication est destinee. M.G. Briscoe s'attache particulierement aux problemes critiques soulevés par ces textes. Beaucoup d'entre eux sont anonymes ou sont faussement attribues a des "autorites", parfois reunis en collection ou avec d'autres instruments de travail des predicateurs. La langue employee, le latin, est influencee par la langue vernaculaire, au fur et a mesure que l'on avance dans le Moyen Age. La tradition manuscrite et textuelle de ces traites a ete jusqu'ici peu etudiee. Ce sont cependant des textes fondamentaux pour la connaissance de la rhetorique medievale. Outre les historiens de la predication et de sa pratique, ils interesseront specialement ceux qui etudient la theologie pastorale et l'histoire religieuse du bas Moyen Age. Les "artes orandi" sont un genre litteraire qui n'a attire l'attention des erudits qu'au XXe siecle. C'est que le Moyen Age ne connait pas ce terme. On peut definir l'"ars orandi" comme un genre qui traite de la priere comme une activite requerant une strategie verbale consciente. Et, au Moyen Age, la priere, activite commune ou privee, verbale ou silencieuse se distingue de la meditation, toujours privee et silencieuse. Le genre a ses racines dans l'Antiquite chretienne et va, a partir du XIIe siecle, se systematiser et se diversifier: traite qui applique l'analyse scolastique et les regles de la rhetorique a la priere destine a un public universitaire, traites de prieres destines aux ordres religieux et, a partir du XIVe siecle, des "artes orandi" destines a la devotion privee des laics. En l'absence d'un releve des "artes orandi" conservees, B.H. Jaye en dresse une premiere liste non exhaustive.
